ZACKARY HORTON

+1 (514) 436-1729 • zackary.horton@mail.mcgill.ca

Education

Doctor of Philosophy: September 2025-Present
McGill University –Supervised by Professor Patrick Allen and Professor Henri Darmon

Master of Science: Pure Mathematics, September 2024-September 2025
Imperial College London – Supervised by Professor Alexei Skorobogatov - Awarded merit upon graduating

Bachelor of Science: Honours Mathematics, Graduated May 2024
McGill University – Two-time Dean's list recipient – Awarded honours with distinction upon graduating

Projects

Galois Cohomology and Local Class Field Theory - Master's project at Imperial College London

Graphs of Maximal Orders in Quaternion Algebras - Undergraduate project at McGill University

Counterexamples to the Nebentypus in Serre's Conjecture - Undergraduate summer research at McGill Univerity

Computing Zeroes of the Riemann Zeta Function - Undergraduate project at McGill University

Extracurricular and other experience

Teaching Assistant: January 2026-Present
McGill University

Math Tutor, McGill Math Help Desk: 2023
McGill University

Airtanker Base Loader and Supervisor: Summers 2020- 2022, 2024
GNWT

Team Member, Assistant Coach: 2019-2026
McGill Volleyball Team

Awards and Grants

Dr. Joanne Jepson Fellowship: 2025-2029

National Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada Undergraduate Research Grant: 2023

Skills

I have experience coding in various languages including python, java, C, magma and sagemath. I am a native English speaker and intermediate French speaker.